

SEND in the East of England Family Voice Norfolk

Louise Warren - Regional SEND Manager 11th March 2023

East of England Regional SEND Team – NHS England

Anneliese Hillyer-Thake , Head of Nursing Quality and Safeguarding

Anneliese Hillyer-Thake is the Head of Nursing Quality and Safeguarding for NHS England and Improvement East region since July 2022. I am a registered Paramedic and have worked in safeguarding since 2004. I have a Masters in Child safeguarding and a further Masters in Adult Safeguarding law and policy. I have worked for NHS E/I since 2014 and have undertaken a number of strategic roles both regionally and nationally. As I started in the East of England, it's a great pleasure to be back home.

Louise Warren, SEND Manager

Louise Warren is East of England Regional SEND manager and joined the team in March 2022. I have been a registered children's nurse for 20 years and have had the privilege of caring for children and young people with complex health needs and specialist educational needs and disabilities throughout my career. I am a champion for hearing the voice of the child and families and improving their experience, recognising the role and compassionate effective leadership plays in this. I am very much looking forward to raising the visibility and profile of our SEND population and supporting our practitioners in delivering high quality child/young persons centred care.

SEN Caseworker Health Reference guide

NHS England- East of England October 2022

This guide has been developed to support in the writing and production of high- quality Education, Health and Care plans focusing on the health elements of the plan.

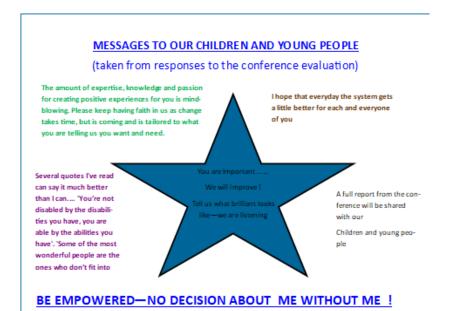

The guide should and can be used alongside existing multi-agency training on best practice writing for EHCP's and quality assurance frameworks and processes within the local areas.

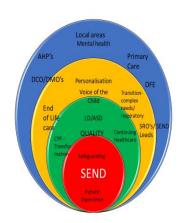

The Information contained in this guide has been sourced from Council for Disabled Children guidance, The SEND Code of Practice, findings from audits

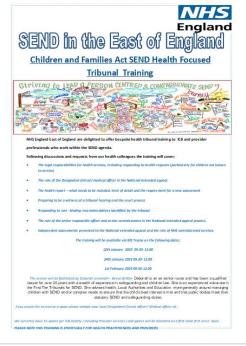

The reference guide can be adapted to meet local need and the NHS E/I regional manager and Designated Health Officer forum will review and
